NY Times Obituary for Michael Wreszin, New Politics contributor

written by admin | September 17, 2012

In a surprisingly warm and positive obituary, the New York Times noted the death of Michael Wreszin in August of this year. The obit says of Wrezin's writings, "His subjects were cosmopolitan, humanist thinkers who saw a growing militarism in American political culture but whose scrupulous habits of mind could make them misfits in the ideological camps they joined." Mike Wreszin was a frequent contributor to New Politics. We miss him already.
